SkanRaces.com reports the Skinnyman Triathlon is sold out with 600 registered. Escape from the Judge Swim previously sold out. The only way to participate in either race on Labor Day weekend is to grab one of the few remaining spots in the "I'm All That" competition including both the Skinnyman and Escape along with the Coon Hill Grind Bicycle Time Trial and the Skaneateles Four Mile Road Race. Go to www.SkanRaces.com to reserve your spot now in any or all 2011 races.

Now is the time for parents to register their children ages 5-14 in MiniSkinny Youth events before they sell out. SkanRaces.com encourages all ages and abilities to engage in healthy lifestyle activities. The MiniSkinny offers age appropriate challenges in a positive and supportive event.

SkanRaces.com will draw over 1200 racers and their supporters to Skaneateles over Labor Day weekend. Imagine the connections your business could make with racers and their supporters through visibility of sponsoring SkanRaces.com. Sponsors can participate at differing levels in various ways. For more information please contact Sharon Slater at 315-685-3353 or email sassos@aol.com . Including "I'm All That" racers, the Skinnyman alone will have 750 registered racers for Saturday morning, September 3.

Celebrating the seventh year of exceptional racing, SkanRaces.com is a volunteer operated, private not for profit (IRS 501c3) charity supporting wellness in CNY by conducting races and funding health-related programs with the proceeds. SkanRaces.com is providing free swimming lesson program for any seven year old during 2011 at both the Auburn YMCA and the Skaneateles YMCA and Community Center and free swimsuits for girls in the Syracuse Housing Authority LIFE Program. Past years' funding has helped remove milfoil from Skaneateles Lake, provided athletic equipment, purchased a pedestrian friendly speed indicator to calm traffic, lifesaving emergency equipment, and several other wellness and recreational programs. Visit www.SkanRaces.com today for more information.
